WHITE HOUSE SILENT: NO DEBT DECISION YET

CANTON AIR TRAGEDY

CRASH FROM 1,000
FEET

PILOT KILLED

Canton, Dec. 3.
Another Canton Government
pilot was killed yesterday afternoon as the result of the crash of a bombing plane during routine manoeuvres.

The machine was flying at an altitude of about 1,000 feet when the mishap occurred. A colleague of the dead pilot escaped with slight injuries.

The tragic occurrence was the second within a brief while. In a similar crash not long ago, two pilots were killed.

The notable feature of yesterday's accident was the miraculous escape of the occupant of the back seat. He suffered very slight injuries when the plane dashed into the shrubs at the southern corner of the new government aerodrome at Shau Kau Ling.

The crash was witnessed by other members of the flying squadron but although their immediate arrival saved the machine from being burned, the other occupant of the doomed plane, Chung Yun-cheung, was found dead suffering from multiple injuries.

HEADLONG PLUNGE.

Eye-witnesses said that the assistant squadron commander, Lo Yu-hang, took the plane up at 12.15 p.m. and allowed the student pilot, Chung Yun-cheung, to take the controls. The plane had made several circuits over the Aerodrome when it was seen to be in difficulties and became almost stationary in the air. For a moment it resumed flight and was seen to climb to a higher altitude, and then it began to hurtle down out of control.

It dived in a perpendicular position to the ground when it reached a height of about two hundred feet. The plane was completely wrecked. The pilot was found planned in the front seat, an injury to his head proving fatal.

NEW PARK FOR CANTON

PRIZE FOR BEST DESIGN

Canton, Dec. 2.
The Municipal Bureau of Public Works has mapped out a park at Shek Pai in the eastern outskirts of the city. To beautify it the public is invited to submit plans concerning the arrangement and lay-out. A sum of $1,200 will be awarded to the winner of the accepted plan.

Another sum of $600 will be offered to the successful designer of a new plan to improve Yuch Shao Park on Kwoon Yam Hill.
Efforts are being made to make these two parks more beautiful and artistic in order to provide wide open spaces and fresh air for the public during the long summer months.—Central Press.

SPAIN GETTING RID OF "ENEMIES"

Madrid, Dec. 3.
A special tribunal has passed sentence upon a number of generals and ex-ministers for participating in General de Rivera's Dictatorship.

The sentences range from six to twelve years' confinement in exile in some cases, while others are deprived of their civil rights for twenty years.—Reuter.

One of the four Chinese constables held on charges of accepting bribes from hawkers failed to appear before
Mr. Wynne-Jones at the Central Police Court this morning and had his bail of $250 exonerated. The case against the other three defendants will be heard on Wednesday.

LONDON DULL: FALLS IN NEW YORK

London, Dec. 2.
The London Stock Exchange
was very quiet to-day and closed dull all round. Very little business was transacted.

In New York, the resistance on the stock exchange was quite uncertain and prices fell from one to three points over a wide range.
The downward tendency is likely, it is feared, to continue.—

VICEROY'S POWERS

CONFERENCE ENTERS ON REAL TUSSLE

TRANSITION ERA

London, Dec. 2.
The Indian Round Table Conference, which has already disposed of certain constitutional questions, such as the franchise, has devoted the larger part of the second week's deliberations to consideration of the safeguards.

It is proposed by the British Government that these shall be introduced in the transitional period between the introduction of responsibility in the Central Government and complete self-government.

The British Government's views were outlined at the outset by Lord Irwin, former Viceroy, who stated that the Government-General, in addition to controlling defence and external relations, should be empowered
to take steps to preserve tranquility, protect the minorities and the rights of the Services and the Indian States, and relations with other parts of the Empire.

THREE-DAY DEBATE.

Following a three days' debate,
Sir Samuel Hoare, on behalf of the Government, pointed out that these special powers would be definitely restricted so as not to interfere with responsibility.

Referring to the protection of Imperial relations, to which much criticism had been directed, Sir Samuel emphasised that it was not intended that the Government-General would normally intervene between the Indian and other Dominion Governments.

EMERGENCY ONLY.

The proposed safeguard was directed only to an emergency in which relations had become so strained as to threaten the integrity of the Empire. The Government, however, agreed to re-examine the matter in view of the opposition.

Sir Samuel concluded in an optimistic vein, and said he was more hopeful now than when the Conference first met.—Reuter.

BRITISH INSURANCE FIRMS AND BOMB THREATS

Shanghai, Dec. 3.
The three British insurance companies who received bomb threats are refusing to be intimidated.

Interviews in the Shanghai Times
this morning convey the information that the Chinese threats of terroristic acts will have no effect on the position taken up by the companies, which has already been fully explained to the claimants.

There can be no deviation under any circumstances.

Reply Likely to be Made in Message to Congress

HOPES AND FEARS AND DOUBTS

WILL SECOND THOUGHTS PREVAIL?

LONDON, DECEMBER 3.

NOT A WORD HAS BEEN ISSUED FROM THE WHITE HOUSE TO INDICATE THE EFFECT OF THE HISTORIC BRITISH DEBT NOTE UPON AMERICAN EXECUTIVE OPINION.

"We have not decided what the next step will be"
declared both Mr. H. L. Stimson and Mr. Ogden Mills, on leaving President Hoover after a conference which lasted for several hours. It seems likely the President Hoover's Message to Congress will be in the nature of a reply to the new British and French Notes.

British views remain solidly behind the Government. It is hoped that on second thoughts, the influential leaders of Congress will see the accuracy of the points so convincingly made and that Congress will recognise that more material benefit to the United States will accrue from the postponement of the December instalment than from insistence upon America's pound of flesh.

FRANCE PLEASED BY BRITISH NOTE NOT HOPEFUL OF THE OUTCOME.

Paris, Dec. 2.
Authoritative quarters in Paris
are very pleased with the manner in which the whole war debts question has been lucidly set out in the British Note.

The only regret expressed is that it suggests a promise to pay in the event of America insisting.

The sequel to the Note is eagerly awaited but with little hope of success as far as France is concerned as it is realised that Britain has a better chance than France of securing consideration.
M. Herriot, who is leaving for Geneva to-night, will discuss the possibility of an American refusal to postpone with Mr. Ramsay MacDonald.

LAUSANNE ISSUE.

The French contend that if America insists upon the December payments, the Lausanne Agreements will cease and the legal position will be the status quo ante,
in other words, that the Young
Plan will resume operation.

It is believed that Mr. Ramsay MacDonald will not agree to this viewpoint, certainly not at this stage.

The Gentlemen's Agreement is likely to be severely tested.—
Reuter.

On a charge of selling cigarettes without a licence, a Chinese who appeared before Mr. Schofield at the Central Police Court this morning was fined $5. It was stated that the defendant was a "gutter manufacturer" in that he rolled cigarettes end for sale.

A GREAT STATE PAPER DECISION STILL WITH CONGRESS.

London, Dec. 2.
British press opinion is unanimous in regarding the Note
as a great State Paper, maintaining the same high level of successive British Governments towards the situation created by these huge inter-Governmental obligations.

The arguments which the Note advances have long been familiar to lending economists throughout the world.

As The Times Washington Correspondent points out, it is common knowledge that, independently of its presentation from London,
the case put forward in the Note is in a large sense found convincing not only by President Hoover, but by all those whose executive position gives them knowledge of and concern in the world situation.

CONGRESS SESSION.

Immediate importance, however,
attaches to the effect which the Note may have upon Congress which meets next week and in whose hands the decision lies.

The Note was drafted in response to an invitation to give reasons to lay before Congress in support of the British request for a suspension of the December instalment of the war debt payment, the United States having meanwhile expressed willingness to facilitate discussion on the British war debt question.

The recommendations which President Hoover will make to Congress are, therefore, unvalued here with exceptional interest.

SECOND THOUGHTS.

It was not expected that the American public would accord an immediately favourable reception to the policy advocated by the British Government which would involve sacrifices on the part of American taxpayers similar to those already borne by British taxpayers.

The conviction is, however, expressed in the British press that when time has been allowed for a careful weighing of the plain straightforward statement of the facts and the inescapable deductions from them, they will carry conviction to all unbiased minds.

WORTH THINKING OVER.

In the evening newspapers, for instance, the hope that the Note will have more effect when its points are better understood is expressed.

The Evening Standard regards
the argument that payment must

PORT AND STARBOARD

CHANGE IN HELM ORDER

DIRECT SYSTEM ON JAN 1.

An important notice affecting helm or steering orders has been issued by the Board of Trade and will come into force in Hongkong on January 1.

It involves a change to the direct system from the existing indirect system of issuing orders to the helmsman.

The various associations representing ships' officers, seamen, etc., who have been consulted by the Board of Trade are all of the opinion that the words "Starboard" and "Port" should continue to be used for giving helm or steering orders in the British Merchant Marine, but that in order to emphasise the change to the direct system the warning word "wheel" should be used with the order for a short period after the change comes into operation.

NEW ORDERS.

On and after 1st January, 1933,
the order "Starboard" must only be given when it is intended that the wheel, the rudder blade and the head of the ship should go to starboard.

"Port" must only be given when it is intended that the wheel, the rudder blade and the head of the ship should go to port.

The orders to be used temporarily during the period immediately after the 1st January, 1933, would be:—"Wheel to starboard" and "Wheel to port" or "Starboard the wheel" and "Port the wheel" (The former alternative is considered preferable
by the Board of Trade.)

NOTED FRENCH VISITORS

LUNCH WITH KING AND QUEEN

London, Dec. 2.
Monsieur and Madame Dou-
mergue, who are visiting London, paid a visit to Westminster Abbey
to the "Tomb of the Unknown Warrior" this morning.

Accompanied by the French Ambassador and Madame De Flouriau, they were subsequently received by the King and Queen at Buckingham Palace, and were entertained to luncheon.—British Wireless.

Inevitably result in a further disastrous fall in commodity prices
as singularly impressive. This, it says, constitutes a grave threat to the farming community of the United States who are most opposed to any cancellation of the debt. The Star also emphasises that a settlement which would raise the price of grain and cotton
by the smallest amount would pay America far better than could the receipt of gold from Britain.— British Wireless.

THE TIDE IS TURNING

—Mr. Baldwin.

BRITAIN RECOVERS OLD TRADE POSITION

ASSISTANCE TO SHIPPING?

London, Dec. 2.

Britain is now able to claim,
for the first time since the war,
the rank of the world's greatest exporting country.

Her own exports have fallen with others as a result of the world economic blizzard, but Britain's trade has not dwindled to anything like the extent of that of her rivals.

"I have never been able to say it before," declared Mr.
Stanley Baldwin, when referring to the position in an important speech at Sunderland to-day, "but I now believe that the tide is turning."

At one time Britain had dropped into third place among the great exporting countries of the world.
According to the latest figures she had regained first place.

But, added Mr. Baldwin, "prosperity cannot be spotted, it must be worldwide."

DEBT QUESTION.

In a brief reference to the war debts question, Mr. Baldwin expressed confidence that the Americans would consider very carefully and very sympathetically
the British Note.

He hoped that as the result of the Lausanne Conference, the historic British Note and the impending World Economic Conference, the whole world would be greatly relieved of these particularly harmful forms of payment.

SHIPPING HINT.

In the meantime, foreign countries were building and running ships with subsidies.

"We cannot allow a great industry of Britain's to suffer from that kind of competition, nor can we allow interlocking competition in industries like the steel and coal industries, nor in shipping rates."—Reuter.

ANGLO-SWEDISH TRADE

DELEGATION REACHES LONDON

London, Dec. 2.

Colonel Colville, on behalf of the President of the Board of Trade, to-day received the Swedish delegation which has arrived for the purpose of opening trade negotiations between Sweden and the United Kingdom.

The delegation was introduced by the Swedish Minister in London, Baron Palmstierna. Statements showing the Swedish and United Kingdom points of view were considered, and arrangements were made for the discussions to be

DISARMAMENT.

AMERICA'S SCHEME

CONSOLIDATION OF GAINS

A GINGERING-UP PROCESS

Geneva, Dec. 2.

A move is on foot in Geneva, under pressure from the United States, to embody whatever has been achieved in the way of agreement on disarmament in a General Convention.

It is hinted, however, that the British Prime Minister is inclined to oppose hurry at this stage, fearing that if any indication is given that the Powers are content with what has already been achieved,
little or nothing more will be done.

PUBLIC WEARY.

The spokesman, outlining the United States proposals, said that the public is beginning to weary at the absence of any signs of tangible progress in the disarmament negotiations, and for that reason, the United States desires to "ginger up" things.

He suggested that the measure of agreement reached by the Disarmament Conference during its nine months' sitting should be embodied in a Convention to be signed by all sixty powers represented at Geneva.

PERMANENT COMMISSION

The application of the Convention and the elaboration of the details, said the American spokesman, could then be entrusted to the Permanent Control Commission.

The Five-Power conversations, between Britain, France, United States, Germany and Italy, with a view to bringing back Germany into the Disarmament Conference, were initiated by Mr. Ramsay Mac-Donald to-day, who talked at some length with Mr. Norman Davis,
the principal American delegate,
and M. Paul Boncour, the French Minister for War.

They will probably decide whether the Conference should adopt the American plan or whether it would be better to proceed with a more ambitious plan.—
Reuter.

BRITISH PREMIER BUSY.

London, Dec. 2.

The Prime Minister, who, in company with the Foreign Secretary, Sir John Simon, reached Geneva this morning, had a long conversation soon after his arrival with Mr. Norman Davis, United States delegate to the Disarmament Conference.

Later, Monsieur Benes, General
Rapporteur of the Disarmament Conference, called upon him, and the possibilities of a speedy resumption of the meeting of the General Committee of the Conference were discussed.

Mr. Ramsay MacDonald continued his survey of the disarmament question this afternoon in conversation with M. Paul Bon-cour (France).

It is believed that the British Prime Minister will take advantage of his visit to Geneva to study the possibility of the convocation
as soon as possible of the World Economic Conference.—British Wireless.

DOLLAR AGAIN DROPS

BUT MARKET MORE STEADY

The Hongkong dollar fell a further farthing this morning to 1s. 3/4d., but the market locally is rather steadier than was the case yesterday.

In London, silver declined
1/16th spot and 1/8th forward India gold, and the Continent bought the market closing quietly steady. After the official fixing the market ruled uncertain.

New York reports a further decline of 3/8ths in silver prices, with the market easy. Silver futures are also easier.

THE WORLD OF WOMEN

By Joan Savoy
After all the talk about the feminine furbelows and feathers that spell fashion this season, it is a relief to see winter clothes that spell aristocratic distinction via simplicity.

For evening especially, there are smart creations that make the most of a woman's graceful lines and rely on their rich fabrics and cut for their originality.

Combinations of colour come in this category. You will find ravishing back and white evening
things, lovely pink and blues.

New, and more arresting for that reason, is a combination of flamingo red and black.

This gown is made of the season's unfinished velvet, in the flamingo shade. Triangles of shiny black satin fashion the sides of the bodice, giving a very slenderizing effect to the lady lucky enough to wear this gown.

There is suave simplicity in the way the bodice makes a double-breasted front, with the half that laps over continuing on down to fashion the front of the skirt, in princess manner.

The triangular insets on the side point up to suggest a slight waistline raising. The back is as simple as the front and the shoulders are cut with the bodice.

With it, black gloves and slippers add a smart and vastly pleasing note. And the wrap can be black too, which makes it nice since a black wrap can always serve any number of gowns as a perfect topping.

DRESS ACCESSORIES.

Bright Coloured Hats.

The fashionable colour is green.
Superstition exercises a sway to longer over the loveliest colour in the world. The green of the moment is not emerald or jade, it is a bright grass green that, in its attractive crudity, is certainly appealing to the jaded senses of the modern woman.

Buttons appear in the new mode on everything, and always with success.

The scarf is rampant in all the collections. A new multi-coloured scarf has made its appearance.

Satin has returned to the fashion
stage, and the vegetable satin,
although they don't last long,
are very beautiful indeed. Chiffon has done all that was prophesied for it, plaids are represented, but not overwhelmingly.

Bright coloured hats are being very successfully pushed by the Paris milliners. In fuchsia shades, in deepest, darkly-toned red and in purple, these models are the triumph of the season. It is more than a fashion. It is an epidemic.

Fans will be acceptable this winter
as their vogue is assured by many smart women. They should be small, of silk and ivory, with hand-painted sticks and spangled tops.
Lace fans are also shown, and very fine feather ones.

Woolen and cloth evening frocks
will be worn this winter by women who feel the cold. A green gown in a woven woolen material, very like a fine jersey and trimmed with woolen lace, another of the latest itself, and a third of pale green

TO-DAY'S BEAUTY HINT.

Choosing Natural Colours.

Women who use rouge because they are too pale, and who dislike to appear made-up, may find difficulty in getting the natural colouring they want. They will see what shade is required if they splash the face with cold water and dry it briskly.

This is a good way, too, of learning exactly where to apply the rouge if it is to look natural.

If the eyes are large and bright,
more rouge may safely be used.
Use the minimum if the eyes are small and pale.

For the evening, a very good effect is gained by using first a cream rouge, then powder, and lastly a faint touch of powder rouge.

COLLARS AND CUFFS.

Cretonne cuffs, with collars to match, are coming into fashion.
These are most attractive, and can be worn with dresses of almost any material. The sets are made in a variety of shapes, and many of the collars are decorated in the front with tiny square wooden beads, reminiscent of minute dice.

cloth, such as is used for coats,
were shown at one collection. Hip-length and bolero jackets worn with skirts and frocks divide the honours between them.

The waist-length jacket will again be the evening wrap for autumn
wear this year.

GIRLS' FUTURES.

The Career's Cost.

The cost of preparation for a career is of growing interest both to parents and to modern girls. A considerable sum needs to be put by in order to train a daughter for lucrative fields. As for a girl in business who aims at a change of career, she must expect to save for many years to achieve her ambition.

Dentistry, for instance, offers a field for women at schools and clinics, but calls for costly training.
Apart from maintenance during the four years' training, fees come to £100.

It takes less time and money to train as an optician. One or two years' training will enable a capable girl to qualify at a cost of about £200.

Well-educated girls, who like outdoor work and dumb animals, are turning to veterinary work in increasing numbers. Training means hard work for four or five years, and costs about £120 in addition to living expenses.

Chiropody is an easier proposition.
Training by means of evening classes
does not cost more than about £37
and the fees are usually spread over a course of eighteen months.

Another profession that will probably have a great future is that of the midwife. In certain cases pupils attending approved schools may receive a Ministry of Health grant towards the cost of training. This occupies twelve months, and its cost varies from £30 upwards.

CHAPTER XXXVIII

Donna was up early and down to the corral before the rest of the camp was stirring. Malloy was nowhere in sight so Donna saddled the roan herself. She galloped up the slope toward Pass Creek.

She met the sunrise as she cantered out at the top of Pass Creek divide. The world below her on each side was hidden in a misty shadow. Only the ridge was aglow with the golden splendor of the sun.

Donna sat on her horse and looked down into the valley she was about to enter. She was sure adventure beckoned to her, sure that she would soon know the secret of all the trouble in the Three Rivers country.

The trail was rough and unused for a half mile. Then several trails joined it, apparently coming from above, but from different angles, and it became a beaten pathway that showed recent heavy use. Donna pushed on along this pathway for another half mile. She began to grow uneasy as the trail widened. She would be sure to meet someone on so well marked a road.

With a sudden feeling that she was about to come upon another rider she pulled out of the trail and took to the timber. This made the going slower.

She came to the edge of the clearing she sought, guided to the spot by the roar of a truck motor. The timber had become so heavy that it was impossible to see any trail marks or landmarks behind her. Donna thanked her luck that she had always had a keen sense of direction.

Dismounting she hid the roan in a dense growth of brush and berry bushes. Her next step was to push forward in the direction of the truck. The job of forcing her way through the brush was a difficult one for a slender girl, but Donna was determined to see what was going on.

She came to an opening in the trees and peered out. What she saw made her lips tighten. The clearing had once been piled high with cut lumber and poles. She could see the props and the planks they had been piled upon. Several thousand feet of lumber still remained. Two big trucks were loading from the remaining stacks.

Donna's eyes sparkled with anger as she watched the men at work. A heavy voice bellowed an order and Donna stepped back quickly. She recognized that voice—Swergin was directing the work. It was plain that this timber was being sent out without checking, if it was not being deliberately stolen by the boss.

Donna began to understand things more clearly than before. But she could not make up her mind. She must ride in and see her father. She would have a straightforward talk with him. If Swergin was stealing from the company he would meet with a lot of trouble.

She worked her way back to her horse and mounted. Her return was begun more carefully than her approach. She realized that if she was caught she might be dealt with roughly. Swergin would not hesitate to keep her prisoner until he had finished his job.

She kept off the trail until she was well up toward the top of the ridge. When she could see the pass ahead she cut across and located the pathway. Riding swiftly she topped the pass and halted. The roan blew noisily and pawed to be on his way, but Donna quieted him with a pat on the neck, for she was suddenly interested in the back trail.

A stone rattled below and a branch snapped. Donna turned the roan and slid from sight over the pass. Someone was riding up from below and it might be Swergin.

The roan trotted along eagerly while Donna watched behind her. A stone came rattling down into the trail from above and she glanced up the hillside. She caught a flash of a black horse and the wide Stetson hat of a rider. Her heart jumped wildly and she strained her eyes, but the rider had vanished above her.

Donna urged the roan a little faster and listened for sounds from above. She had the advantage in a race if she chose to let her horse out because she was on the trail and the man above was in the rough timber.

The rattling of stones from above became very distinct as her pursuer put his horse to a gallop to keep abreast of her. Donna's eyes suddenly lighted up. If that was Ball she would show him that he could not overtake her. She hated him thoroughly as she remembered how he had looked as he promised to stay out of the country.

Donna slapped the roan smartly with her quirt. He leaped down the trail and the race was on. They thundered out into a meadow and crossed it like a sweeping stampede. Donna caught sight of her pursuer breaking from the timber behind and to her right. He was bounding over his horse's neck, urging it on. The black horse was flying along with an easy stride that made Donna sure Ball was pursuing her.

Into the timber the roan plunged while the black came clattering after. Donna smiled as she realized that her horse was equal to the black if not a little faster. She bent forward and urged the big fellow on.

The roan laid his ears back and let his stride out a trifle. Only a horse born and bred to the hill country could have kept his feet at such a pace on a rocky trail.

They shot out into another little meadow and Donna glanced over her shoulder. The black was still on her right, but was losing ground. Donna ducked low and used her spurs. The cowboy on the horse was pulling a rifle from under the flap of his saddle.

After that the race was real. Donna forced the roan to his fastest pace and held to what cover she could pick without leaving the trail. Her pursuer had ceased to try heading her off and was following along the beaten path. His horse, with solid footing, had ceased to lose ground. Strive as the roan would, he could not get away.

The camp was not so far away and that made Donna feel hopeful of escaping. There was one more clearing to cross and she entered it lying flat on the roan's neck and urging him to his best speed. Behind her the black shot out into the open as he gave chase.

The rider who was pursuing her rose in his stirrups and raised his rifle. A bullet cut the dirt close to the roan's heels. Donna's lips drew tight and she strained forward as though to help her horse. Another bullet cut the dust on the other side. These were warning shots and aimed to stop them, but she did not stop.

The third shot did not loosen a spurt of dust and Donna felt the roan falter. Her heart beat wildly and anger blinded her as her horse lurched to one side. The man behind her had wounded the roan. The big horse pounded on but his stride was broken and rough and he was having trouble in breathing.

Donna eased up in her saddle and prepared for an attack. It was certain that her pursuer would overtake her now.

Another shot rang out, close behind this time. Donna did not look back but she knew her horse had been hit again. He broke and staggered, then, before she could clear herself, he plunged forward and fell.

Donna swung one leg loose but could not free the other. The roan hit the ground and rolled over. A screaming pain shot through her right side, then a swirling blackness swept over her and all was still and blank.

FRENCH REQUEST.

THREATENS COLLAPSE OF LAUSANNE AGREEMENT

Paris, Dec. 2.

The French Government renews its "instant and naturally reflected request" for the suspension of the December 15 payment, and awaits Mr. Hoover's decision "with confidence," in the debts note to the United States, now published.

She does not say what she will do if the request is rejected, but holds out a threat of the collapse of the Lausanne Agreement.—

BRILLIANT TEST RECOVERY

tea time McCabe had 47 and Richardson 21.

The crowd disapproved of the dumping tactics of the English bowlers and frequently booed Voco and Larwood, who struck 1 on the hip and Kippax on the hand.

Verity and Larwood resumed the attack after tea, when Richardson brightened up and rattled the pickets twice in succession from 1 on the hip. McCabe reached 50 scored in 90 minutes, including five fours. The dramatic change in the fortunes of the game had put the crowd in a good humour. The partnership registered 100, in 92 minutes, when McCabe crashed a full-toss from Voco to the boundary, at the same time bringing up 200 to the board in 231 minutes.

Magnificent Catch.
 When McCabe was 75, Richardson got on to one on the leg from Voco but Hammond made a magnificent catch at square leg. Richardson's 49 had been scored in two hours and included five fours, for although admirably restrained at the beginning he had opened out later. His partnership with McCabe had added 129 and had saved Australia from ignominy.

Oldfield, who followed, kicked Andy and ran, but the ball went to fine leg where Larwood took a simple catch. Oldfield had scored only four and six were down for 231.

McCabe's batting was delightful to watch, as he used his wrist feet and shoulders well and judiciously placed the well-placed field. He was particularly strong on the leg side. His century was reached with a glorious cover drive off Allen in 161 minutes, including 13 fours. His defence was classical and impeccable.

When stumps were drawn with six down for 230, McCabe had scored 127 in 180 minutes, with 17 boundaries. Grimmett the other not-out man, had given a typical stolid Grimmett innings for 17.

The attendance was estimated at 10,700, which is a record for the test match on a Friday, and the takings aggregated £4,467.

NEW WOMEN'S CLUB

TO BE OPENED IN HONGKONG

OPEN TO ALL

It is proposed to form a Women's International Club in Hongkong, dedicated to service in the cause of international good feeling, and to which all creeds and races will be welcomed. The scheme has obtained the most influential support in the Colony, and is expected to develop into one of the principal features of social life here. The sponsors have circulated the following details of the plan, which are embodied in an appeal to interested parties by Mrs. W. T. Southorn: "To be educated," said Mr. Baldwin in a recent speech, "we must know enough of the other man's job to understand the part he is playing in life, and to play our own part in sympathy with him." Ever since the War when millions of men of various nations without any personal enmity went out to slaughter one another, there has been a growing desire among many nations to avoid another calamity of such magnitude by learning to play their part in sympathy with that of others and to learn their point of view.

There have been and are many setbacks in the development of this international spirit, but it is now deeprooted in the heart of a large percentage of the human race. There are great movements like the League of Nations working for peace and understanding, but there is room too for the small circle of "internationally minded people"—a nucleus which is not to be despised.

Central Meeting Place.

This is one aspect of life that has inspired the opening of the Blue Triangle Women's International Club. Hongkong and Kowloon with their geographical cleavages tend to keep groups of people in water-tight compartments and the only way of overcoming these difficulties is by having a meeting place in a central position.

But its origin lies in the needs of business and professional women, who expressed a desire for a place where they could enjoy rest, light refreshment and relaxation during their time hour. The strain of working in the centre of a city is great and many

Five Principal reasons why Hongkong needs the Blue Triangle Women's International Club:

1. To supply a centre for Rest and Refreshment for Business and Professional Women (and others) in the heart of the City.
2. To supply a Headquarters (and occasional accommodation) to many women travellers through the Colony.
3. To Supply an Employment Bureau to help those who need work and those who need workers.
4. To provide a place for Recreational and Cultural Activities.
5. To provide a meeting place for the many nationalities in the Colony.

workers look forward to this Club as a peaceful spot in which they can have a simple meal and then read, meet their friends and exchange ideas with other members. The business girls' lunch hour does not admit of returning to her home if she lives at any distance, except in a rush which is certainly bad for her health and peace of mind. The advantages of the Club from the business and professional women's point of view, especially those whose homes are in Kowloon, cannot be too much emphasized. Where can any women put in spare hours after offices are closed, whilst waiting for some other engagement. Where in the centre of Hongkong can she sit and write a letter or read a magazine without being under an obligation to order some refreshment?

Attractive Premises Secured.

The Women's International Club has secured attractive premises—the 6th floor and roof of the National Commercial and Savings Bank, corner of Des Voeux Road and Ice House Street.

Women of all races and creeds will be welcomed as members. All that is asked of them is that they should bring to the Club a spirit of friendliness. In return the Club will offer many attractions. It will be presided over by Miss N. E. Elliott, who has made so many friends in the Colony. Under her sympathetic guidance and with her high ideals, happy outlook and sense of humour, we feel the Club should flourish and become the rallying point for women of all nationalities and creeds and of diverse interests.

Our premises have been most skilfully planned out by Lt. Col. Bird, who has taken great personal interest in the matter. The amenities offered are facilities for tiffin, tea and rest, reading and writing room, changing rooms and shower, two bedrooms for transient accommodation in time of typhoons, an Employment Bureau—an important piece of service which we can render to working women. We trust that this Club will prove a centre for many friendly affairs of a Cultural and Recreational nature and that in this meeting place friendships will be formed leading to a fuller and deeper understanding among the women and girls of this Colony.

Lady Peel as Patroness.

Lady Peel has kindly consented to be our Patroness and we appreciate very much her valuable advice and practical interest in our preliminary work.

As regards ways and means we have received an initial generous gift of $12,000 from Mr. Tang Shiu-kin and his friends. We require in addition $20,000 for initial expenses, viz. structural requirements, equipment and Budget difference for at least two years.

We have received great consideration and encouragement from the Chairman and Directors of the National Commercial and Savings Bank, and much valuable assistance from Dr. and Mrs. Kotewall.

It is hoped that in time the Club will be self supporting. This depends entirely upon the measure of response which is given to it. We are strengthened in our confidence in our enterprise by the fact that we are working hand in hand with the two leading organizations for women in this city—the Helena May Institute and the Chinese Y.W.C.A. Their Committees realise that in addition to their own work a centre in the heart of the City is an absolute necessity owing to the development of women's work and needs in the Colony.

Letters in Support.

The following welcome letters have been received from Mrs. J. R. Wood (Chairman, Helena May Institute) and Miss F. C. Woo, M.B.E. (President, Chinese Y.W.C.A.)

Helena May Institute,
Hongkong,
26th November, 1932.

Dear Mrs. Southorn,
I hear that you are about to announce to the public the formation of the International Club, and I write at once to say that we at the Helena May Institute shall all watch its development with friendly interest and sympathy.

There is plenty of room for the new institution, its success will not react in any way adversely upon Clubs and Societies already existing.

You have admitted me to your preliminary Committee and I have been able to realise how much the International Club is destined to achieve for the Colony.

With kind regards,
Yours sincerely,
(Sd.) Frances Wood,
St. Paul's Girls' College,
Hongkong.

30th November, 1932.

The Chinese Y.W.C.A. is very much in sympathy with the proposed Blue Triangle International Women's Club, seeing that the increasing number of women of various Nationalities entering the business life of the city, the work of meeting their special needs was making a down town centre a necessity. Miss Elliott who has carried the responsibility for this work of the Y.W.C.A. including Employment Bureau and International contacts is being spared to be organizing Secretary, and this we hope will ensure close co-operation between the two Associations and that the link will be a stimulus to both.

The Pre-organization Committee has given this much needed venture a truly inspiring lead and we wish the Committee all the success they deserve, and we hereby pledge them our loyal co-operation and support.

(Sd.) F. C. Woo.

Co-Operation Obtained.

We have already secured keen co-operation of a number of women of all nationalities, but it is impossible to approach individually every woman resident of this Colony. We hope that all who are interested in our scheme will communicate with us to bring their quota of comradeship and sympathy to the Club.

Every woman who lends her support to the Women's International Club while enjoying additional comforts in her daily life will learn the point of view of others and contribute to unity and understanding among women of all creeds and of all nations.

(Sd.) Bella Southorn.

Donations and subscriptions and application for membership will be gratefully received by any of the following:

Mrs. W. T. Southorn, 297, The Peak, (Chairman, Organization Committee).

Mrs. L. Dunbar, 2 May Road, (Chairman, Finance Committee).

Mrs. B. J. Lewis, 173 The Peak, (Chairman, House and Furnishings Committee).

THE SHADOW AND THE BONE

Britain's second Note on the war debt issue covers far more ground than the question of the payment of the instalment immediately due. It sets forth, logically and forcefully, the situation arising from the continued existence of these obligations and seeks to show that payment of the December dues will only serve to aggravate the position. The better way, it is indicated, is to leave over the pending payments until such time as the whole problem undergoes re-examination. That, in brief, is the British attitude. One of the London journals suggests that by failing to say we cannot pay, the Government has turned its back on its own case. That is true, in part. To argue that payment now may cause further disaster by making the situation even more precarious, and yet at the same time to give the impression that, if pressed, we are prepared to meet the obligation, is equivalent to acting against our better judgment. But against this we must place two other considerations. One is that we are accustomed to honour our promises. The other is that default may conceivably have even worse consequences than payment. On the economic side, the British submissions are all-convincing. The gist of the contentions is well expressed in the words—"It will not profit a creditor country to collect a few million pounds if it thereby perpetuates world disorder." On that point, the essential fact to be borne in mind is that insistence by the United States on payment will mean something very much more than the issue between America and her debtors. It will mean the reopening of the Lausanne agreement, which represented a decided step towards European reconstruction, with the result, as the Note pertinently points out, that the whole system of European confidence, now so precariously balanced, will fall to the ground. The consequences of such a development are obviously of far greater gravity than any difficulty which Britain may encounter in making the payment. There is no suggestion in the Note that an end should be put to the debt obligations; all that is sought is a postponement of the December instalment so that the whole problem of these unproductive commitments, which are clogging up the world's economic machinery, may be restudied in the light of present-day facts. Unhappily, American opinion appears disinclined to make the slightest concession. The result will be to perpetuate that distrust and misunderstanding which a noted group of leaders of American non-political thought, headed by Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, some years ago described as a direct outcome of insistence on the debt settlements. By temporarily withholding her strictly legal rights, America would be able to make a first-class contribution towards the readjustment of world conditions. But the portents are that she prefers to grasp at the shadow, even if it means losing the bone.

Public Baby Creches

Canton, already to be complimented on the remarkable progress achieved in every direction in the last twelve months, sets an example to the Hongkong Government by the establishment of a public nursery or baby creche. The nursery will receive children whose parents are engaged all day in arduous labours and are unable to devote proper attention to their families. In the evening, when the day's work is over, the parents will call for their children and take them to their homes. Canton thus adopts on a small scale an idea which has been developed to its final results in Moscow and which might be followed with advantage in all parts of the world. In Hongkong, especially, does there appear the need for the organisation of a social service along these lines: Several institutions are doing excellent work here and there to relieve hard-working coolie women of the strain of their existence, but the effort is too small to have an appreciable effect. Far too many unfortunate women are observed breaking stones or carrying heavy loads with children strapped to their backs, pitiful sights many of them. It is a sad commentary that Hongkong lags behind Canton in care and consideration for its citizens, whatever their walks of life. The Government can point to few social services performed in the interests of those really in need of assistance, the excuse being fear of an influx of ne'er-do-wells and beggars. The organisation of public baby creches in all thickly-populated centres is a social service which needs to be adequately performed and cannot be passed over with such an excuse.

Permutations of the Pound.

The sterling-dollar exchange is again in the general news. Pounds have declined abruptly in favour of dollars. When one speaks of the exchange rate, one means the number of dollars required to buy a pound, or vice versa. Prior to September 20, last year, a pound was worth $4.86%, and the rate kept around that figure, because both currencies were tied to gold. Nowadays, with the pound off gold, the rate should oscillate up and down in accordance with the demand for the two currencies. But from April until recently Britain engaged in supplying another ad-juster in the place of gold. They bought and sold foreign money with a view to keeping their exchange rate more or less stable. A drop from $3.40 to less than $3.16 within the last two weeks is thus regarded as evidence that this "peg" has been removed. It may be that, with the decline in receipts of foreign money for British freight, insurance and banking services, the authorities in London thought that sterling was quoted at too high a figure on the old "pegged" basis, and are desirous of finding a new "natural level" under which to put a new peg. Whatever may be the real reason, there is still ground to suppose, remembering the provision in the last Government budget for the purpose, that Britain can unless her resources are used in the payment of the war debt instalment, regain control of the exchange whenever she wishes.

A THOUGHT FOR TO-DAY

AS KNOWLEDGE ADVANCES, PLEASURE PASSES FROM THE EYE TO THE EAR; BUT RETURNS, AS IT DECLINES, FROM THE EAR TO THE EYE.—John.

Is Life Worth While?

Life is always worth living if only to see what is going to happen next," said a Magistrate recently to a girl who was being charged with attempted suicide.

That is one reason which prompted the writer to find out from a few celebrities what, in their opinion, makes life worth while. Here is the result:—

Miss Rebecca West.

"Love, occasional good weather, good food, literature, art, so much of science as I can understand, swimming. The order in which these factors of happiness should be ranked varies from day to day."

Mr. Gilbert Frankau.

"There are only two things that make life worth living—love and solvency."

Miss Gracie Fields.

"I think that what makes life most worth living is the glory of attainment. I set out to achieve something; whether it is to get a new song over, master a new dancing step, or help to make a new show a success. Whatever the object, the achievement is worth it all, and that is one of the things which makes life worth living."

"The other is to love someone and to have someone to love me, because I believe that, whatever the cynics may say, love does and always will make the world go round. So I may safely say that work and love make life worth living."

The Rev. J. E. Welldon, Dean of Durham.

"Your questions are not always easy to answer. Life would seem to me only doubtfully worth living if it were not for the vestibule of a higher life. But it is redeemed, I think, by the two-fold object of trying to make the world a little better, and to make one's friends and neighbours a little happier."

Miss Ellen Wilkinson.

"Good health, work that is really interesting and worth doing, and at least one good friend makes life well worth living."

Sir Gerald Huxley, M.P.

"Life is always worth living so long as one has either happiness or the hope of happiness; and the sources of happiness and hope are so many and so constantly recurring that not a man in a million would willingly lose his life."

Miss Thelma Cazalet, M.P.

"Sympathy and kindness in yourself and others."

Mr. J. R. Clynes.

"I have found my view perfectly expressed by one who before he died some time ago had a longer and more varied experience. The late Lord Rothes had every possible opportunity (as he said) for enjoying honours, power, wealth, fame, and social distinction. But he said the wise man does not consider them as the best purpose of life. What he wishes to achieve is happiness in the large sense of the word, a well ordered life of work, friendship, family affection, and, if possible, religious faith; congenial work, a healthy existence, pleasant relations of family and friend."

USEFUL ADVICE.

More Valve Hints.

By Israel Klein

Modern automobiles have been constructed with much thought to body and chassis noise elimination, but we still have to find perfection in eliminating noise from valve mechanism.

Valve trouble in most cars is indicative of lack of power. The engine will not idle, the car will not climb a hill as it used to, and the trouble is made known in many places.

Ninety per cent of valve troubles are made known through some sort of noise, and result from misalignment of the valve head with the valve stem, stem guide or valve seat.

The seats and stem guides are subject to seasoning as is the case with all parts made of cast iron, and the intense heat generated in the automobile engine brings a rapid change in the texture of the metal and distorts these parts.

The guides sometimes require from 1000 to 2000 miles of running before they become permanently set or seasoned.

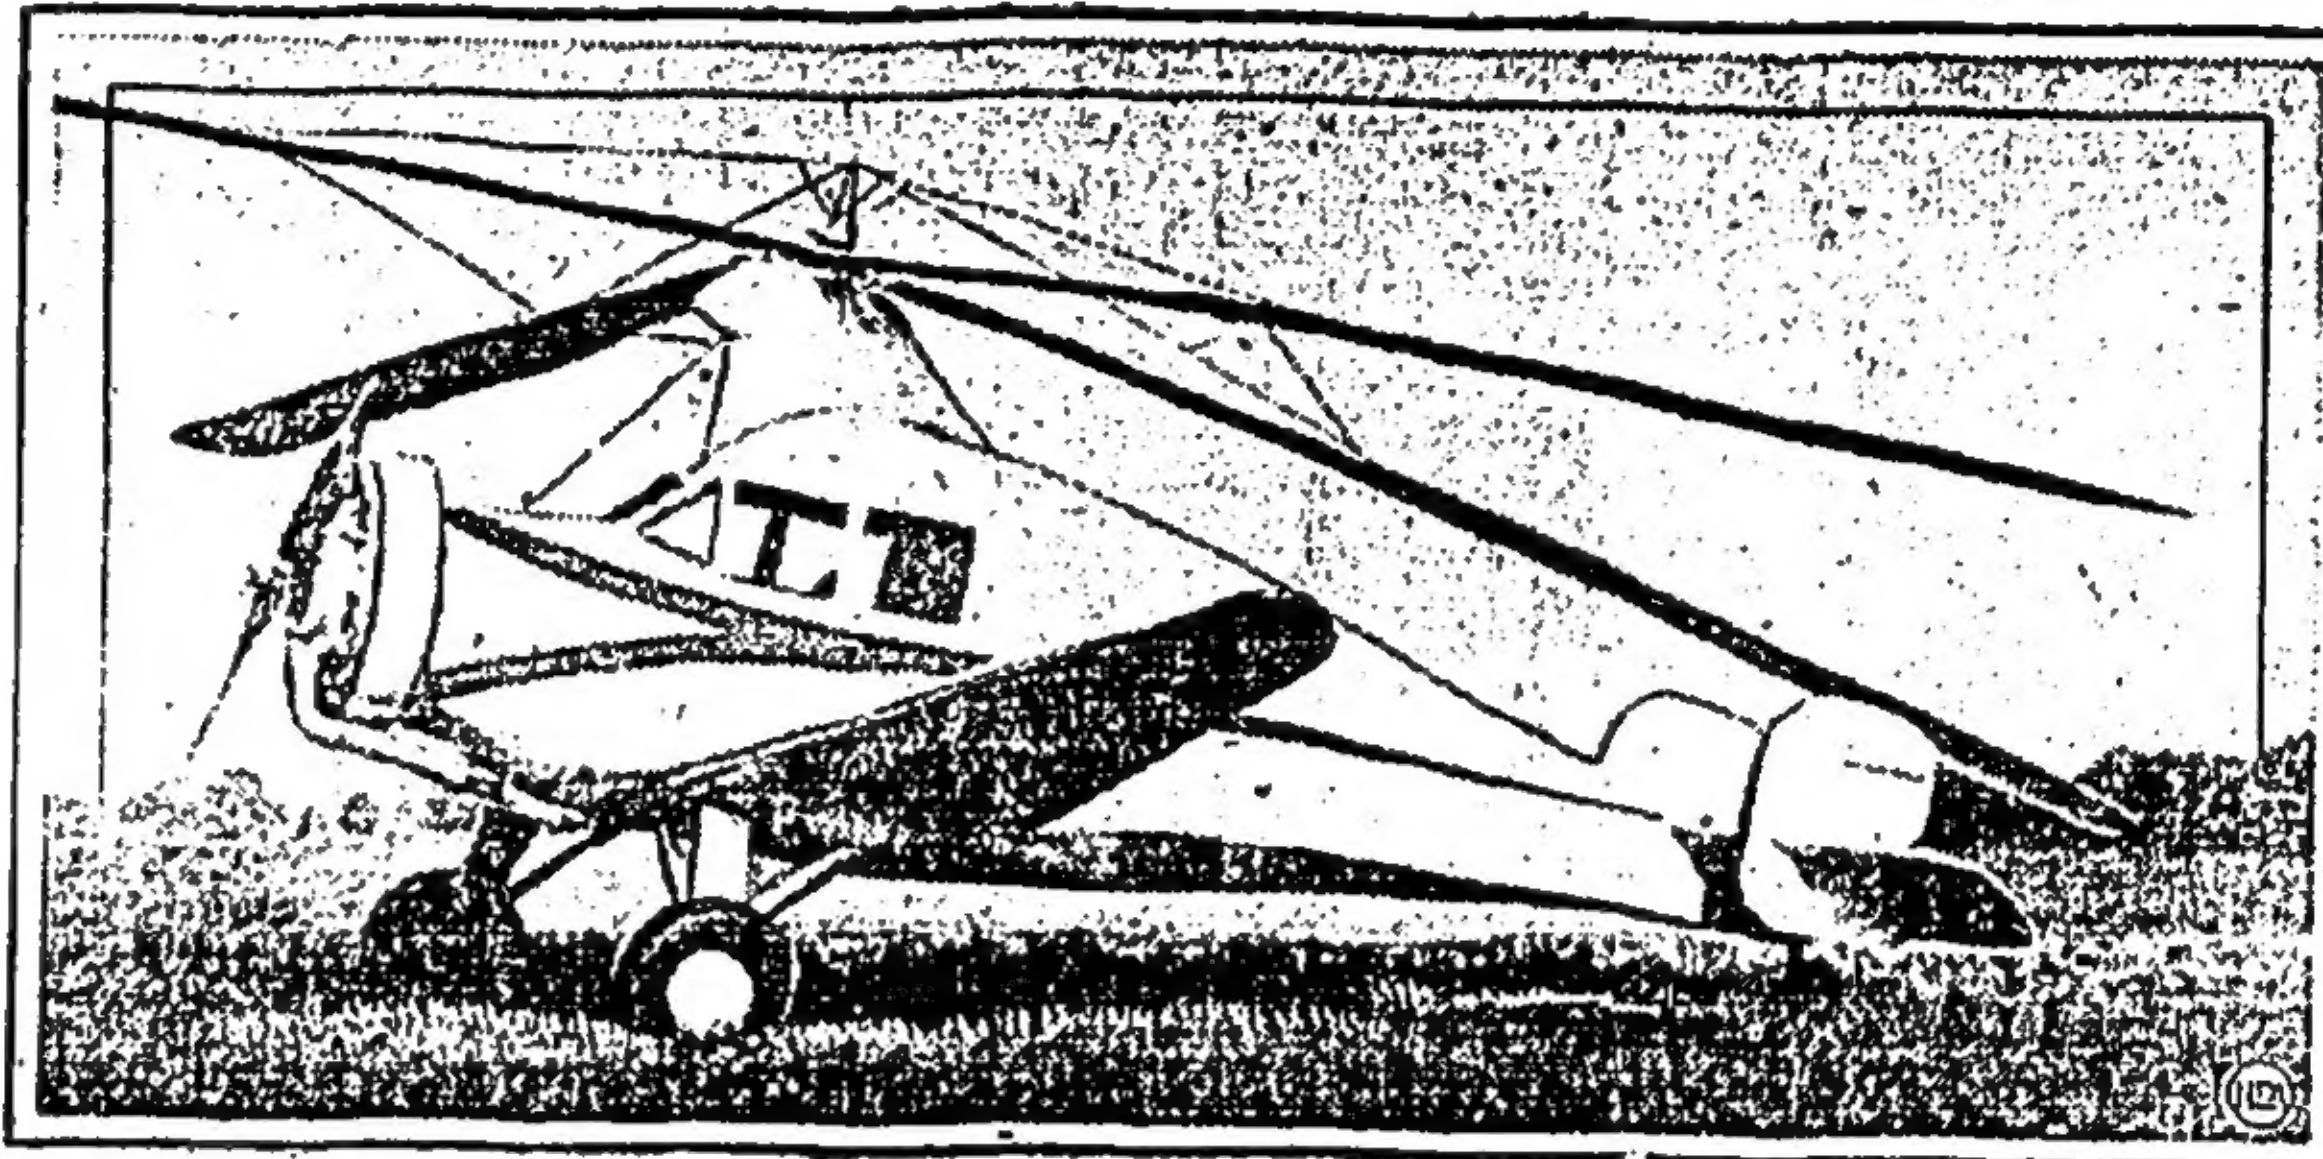

Thus every hour's operation of the engine adds to the value of the material in these parts, but makes it necessary to service or recondition the valve seats as soon as possible after the engine shows reconditioning to be needed.

The guide, a small cast-iron rod extending into the valve port where the heat from burning gas has greater opportunity to warp it, soon loses its perfect alignment with the seat and changes the direction of travel of the valve.

The spring has the power to close the valve regardless of this untrue condition, but does so through the valve striking a small portion of the seat first and then

OLYMPIA IN RETROSPECT.

Special Report to the "Hongkong Telegraph" By "R. A. C."

Within the first day or two of the opening of the Olympia Motor Show a feeling of optimism became general and this continued throughout the Exhibition. It is confidently believed that the British motor industry has a good time before it, not only at home, but also in the Overseas markets.

About 1,000 cars and trucks are sent Overseas from the Luton works each month.

During the Show Singers received an order by cable for 20 cars for Spain, while Egypt and Morocco also figured on the list. Previously, Denmark and Holland had both placed substantial orders.

The total attendance at the Show—185,778—must be regarded as eminently satisfactory. It was within a thousand of the figure for 1931.

Figures for the first nine months of 1932 show that export values exceeded imports by about £3,000,000.

H.R.H. Prince George spent several hours at the Show one day, when Mr. W. E. Rootes, of the well known exporting firm, acted as guide and ensured that the Royal visitor missed none of the many interesting features on view.

On the Lucas stand, Prince George had a talk with Mr. Peter Bennett, who was able to give his impressions of Ottawa, where he led the delegation representing the British motor industry at the Conference.

Although the total number of exhibitors was smaller this year, this allowed better arrangement of the stands from the visitor's point of view. There was universal praise for the grouping of the coachbuilders' exhibits in the National Hall, where on entering the Show, the magnificent productions of such well known body-builders as Hooper & Co., for instance, immediately caught the eye.

An exhibit which attracted the marine enthusiast was the 30 ft. Thornycroft cruiser, described as a "Family Cabin Cruiser de Luxe", and intended for use in coastal waters. This was fitted with a twin installation of the firm's 4-cylinder engines giving a speed of about 8½ m.p.h.

It is learned that the already large works of Vauxhall Motors at Luton are to be extended and new plant added at a cost of £500,000. In the minds of many Overseas gaining the full seat through a pendulum-like swing of the stem. This produces a metallic click that defies removal through cutting the tappet clearance.

Stocking valves are produced through the same misalignment. Under best conditions, this slap of the stem will produce carbon to such an extent that it will seal the valve stem in its guide.

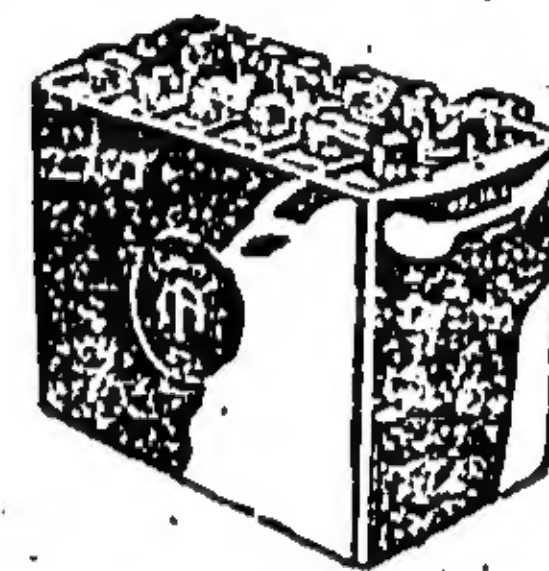

Warped and burned valves began to appear with the advent of the high-speed engines. When a valve does not close completely in these engines, the compressed burning gas, which reaches a temperature of 1500 to 2000 degrees Fahrenheit, is forced with great velocity through the small opening left and burns the valve face or wraps the stem.

It is impossible, when a valve guide warps and loses its original alignment with the block and valve seats, to bring it back, yet it is ridiculous to replace it. The remedy is to recondition the cylinders after about 15,000 miles of running.

CAR WITH AIR-COOLED ENGINE.

Here is the convertible coupe of the new Franklin air-cooled Olympic, built for the medium-price field, and the engine that goes in it.

Syracuse, N. Y., Oct. 29. The first air-cooled automobile ever to enter the medium-price field has been produced here by the Franklin Automobile Company. The new car, the Olympic model, sells for $1385 for the sedan type, as compared with the price of more than $2300 heretofore.

The new car has been designed to bring this air-cooling feature to a greater field of buyers. Its features include a 100-horsepower airplane type, super-charged engine, X-frame construction of the double drop type, 60-inch tread, hydraulic shock absorbers, free-wheeling, synchromesh transmission, automatic starting, and increased streamlining.

The new six-cylinder engine produces one horsepower for every 35 pounds of weight. The car has a taxable horsepower of 20.40.

Hydraulic brakes assure safety in proportion to the acceleration and speed the new model is capable of.

American Experts Hold That Planes Can Fly Atlantic Mails.

Following the flights of 1919 there was a wait until 1927. Lindbergh, in his solo hop in the specially constructed Spirit of St. Louis, flew 3,610 miles from Roosevelt Field to Paris, a now distance record, destined, it was declared, to stand for a long time. Two weeks later, Chamberlin, with a passenger aboard and flying a Bellanca built for commercial use and not for an ocean flight, stepped up that distance record to 3,911 miles. He met storms in the Atlantic and flew around them.

In that time the proper planes would be built and tested under actual load and over the route decided upon. The rougher flights would be made to assure the backers and the government that the service would be both safe and dependable. The oceanweather-reporting system which Captain Mollison calls already "90 per cent. accurate" would be even more accurate. The pilots, probably those same navigators who are now on regular schedule plowing the air lanes by the automatic beam for Pan American Airways, would not dot 500 miles at sea with 100 per cent. records, would have completed their training over the ocean and all the many little things, the quirks and "bugs" that Every branch of science is contributing something to the conquest of the ocean by air, but when it is finally established and the history written no small part of the credit will be allotted to the "stunt" fliers, the "crazy" men and women who year after year have risked their lives in flying the ocean. They have concentrated man's attention on the conquest of the air over the seas. They have joined the scientific workers in a concerted attack on the problem and by their risky laboratory experiments have made ocean flying a fact.

If the accessory men had their own way, the automobile would be the most illuminated piece of machinery in the world. Lights have been devised for every conceivable angle, curve and corner.

The Automobile Club of Southern California has found that a gallon of gasoline giving 20 miles at a speed of 20 miles an hour may deliver only seven miles at 70 miles an hour.

There has been an appreciable slowing down in the growth of car traffic. The expansion in 1933

ETON'S REPLY TO A DUKE

"WE DON'T WANT
DRAWING-ROOM
LUXURIES"

"Drawing-room luxuries are not expected—or wanted—at school. We may not have all 'home comforts' but we are not grousing about the conditions."

Summed up, this is the answer of Eton College boys to the criticism made by the Duke of Rutland of conditions at the school. He said that he had been "horried" at the conditions of his son's (the Marquess of Granby's) house at the college, and the rooms in which the boys were expected to live.

The Marquess of Granby, who is 13, was one of the new boys who went to Eton at the beginning of this half on September 22.

Although the authorities at Eton—and the Marquess of Granby's housemaster—refused officially to make any comment on the duke's remarks, several of the boys with whom I discussed the matter this afternoon had quite a lot to say.

"A JOKE."

Here are two of the views. A Senior Boy.—Everyone is treating the criticism as a joke. In my time at Eton I have never heard any really serious complaints against conditions, though, of course, there are always a few grumblers with small grievances.

After all, at school you do not expect to find drawing-room luxuries, and, what is more, no one wants them. One housemaster feeds the boys so well that I know he runs his house at a loss.

A Master.—Some of the houses at Eton are certainly very old, but in the last thirty years many improvements have been made and more are being continually carried out. I should say that, taken all over, conditions at Eton are more comfortable than at most schools.

A BROKEN DOWN SYSTEM.
This is a condition (or disease) to which many names are given but few really understand it. It is simply weakness—brought down at a week of the vital forces that sustain the system. No matter what may be its cause (they are almost numberless), its symptoms are much the same: the more prominent being sleeplessness, loss of vitality, loss of energy for all the ordinary affairs of life. Now, what alone is essential in all such cases is increased vitality—vital strength and energy to throw off these morbid feelings, and as night succeeds the day this may be more certainly secured by a course of THE NEW FRENCH REMEDY, THERAPION No. 3

than by any other known combination. So surely as it is taken in accordance with the printed directions will the shattered health be restored. THE EXPIRING LAMP OF LIFE LIGHTED UP AFRASH and new existence imparted to a man who had so lately seemed worn-out, used up and valueless. This preparation is suitable for all ages, constitutions and conditions, in either sex; and it is difficult to imagine a disease or derangement whose sole feature is weakness, that will not be speedily and permanently overcome by this cooperative essence, which is destined to see man obtain everything that had preceded it for this wide-spread source of weakness, English Prime Minister, Chamberlain or other the world over. RIOTER'S THREAT TO JUDGE

"I WILL SHOOT YOU WHEN I COME OUT"

"When I get out I will shoot you," shouted Richard Murphy, aged 20, to Mr. Justice Charles at Chester Assizes.

Murphy was one of ten men who were tried on charges arising out of the Birkenhead riots on September 16.

There was considerable commotion in court for some minutes, and a woman was carried out by policemen.

George Emyln Williams, aged 23, Joseph Rawlings, aged 38, Sidney Rawson Greenwood, aged 29, and William McBeth, aged 40, were described by Mr. Justice Charles as the leaders of the riots.

"You men are the worst enemies of your kind," he said. "I do not know whether you wish to do good for working men, or whether it is that you are engaged on other activities disconnected with work but connected with revolution and upstart such as these riots."

"I regard you as dangerous people," Williams and McBeth will be kept in prison with hard labour for nine calendar months."

To Greenwood he said, "I wish to goodness I did not have to sentence a youngster like you. You must go to prison for twelve months."

Addressing Rawlings, Mr. Justice Charles said, "You are the secretary and organizer of the National Unemployed Workers' Association. I know from my experience, having sat in other Assize Courts, of cases where riots have been deliberately engineered by the Society of which you are secretary and they are serious and most bitter. You must go to prison for 20 calendar months."

Rawlings shouted, "My body goes to prison but my spirit lives in Birkenhead."

Two men were discharged. After the Judge had passed sentence a window in another part of the court was smashed.

YO YO IN CHURCH

SPAIN IN THROES OF THE CRAZE

Spain, like many other countries, is "yo yo" mad, and it is doubtful whether London or Paris have got the craze worse than Madrid.

In a church situated in the fashionable Salamanca district of Madrid, the parish priest has been faced with a problem which was, to say the least, out of the ordinary. During the celebration of the Mass of Nuptial Benediction, the officiating priest noticed that not only were the invited people taking no interest in the service, but even the bride and bridegroom were paying little attention. They were in fact laughing.

The cause of the trouble was a small acolyte who was varying the monotony of the Latin service with an exhibition of Yo Yo.

THE BIBLE AND SCIENCE

"No, the Bible is now discredited by scientific discoveries; I do not read it."

This is sometimes heard, as a reason for not reading the Bible. Science and the Bible find common ground in the origin of the world and in the miracles. Must we give up the Bible because of what science has discovered?

Let me first say that Science has not yet reached a state of finality. Am I to alter my views with each new discovery made or to wait and see whether some future discovery may not supersede this? The real crux of the matter is, when is one to conceive of a scientific law as being beyond dispute and final.

What was the origin of the world? Let it be here said that all thinking people believe that some form of evolution has taken place. But has God been the special agent in the great fresh developments that are apparent in the record of the rocks and in the appearance of what are called the major groups.

Evolution is now in the melting pot. Darwinism has been discarded, yet Evolution is a theory universally accepted, not because it could be proved to be true, but because the only alternative special creation was clearly incredible. Prof. D. M. Watson, (British Association Meeting 1929).

When prominent scientists are of this opinion surely it is more scientific and wiser to reserve one's judgment on this, rather than discard what the Bible has said. In the case of man other considerations come in. Is he slowly improving or is his present position the result of a fall? It is remarkable that in China and some other countries the primitive belief was monotheistic and heathen religions are debased forms of this primitive monotheism. This is only a thought thrown out; I have no space to enlarge on this.

MIRACLES.

Now with regard to miracles. Is a miracle possible? Let me say first that very few scientists today would deny the possibility of many things which before were held to be impossible. It only requires a higher power to come into operation for the ordinary laws to be suspended. None would be surprised to see an axehand float if there were a strong enough magnet above it. That is to say, that God could put a higher law into operation if He so desired. The only question is whether God would do such a thing. If we can find an adequate reason for God to suspend the ordinary laws of nature, there is no difficulty about His being able to do the miracles.

Many of the miracles are only the processes of nature, either quickened, such as the stilling of the tempest which would have lulled of itself in time, or the cursing of the figtree which would have died of itself in time, or intensified such as the plagues in Egypt (except the first), the flood, or the destruction of Sodom. Yet if we believe that God is Almighty any miracle is possible, for these same laws of nature are themselves controlled by God.

In the Old Testament the miracles are given as the signs of God's judgment or power. Among people who have not received much education, we find that any apparent disturbance of the laws of nature is attributed to the appearance of an eclipse or comet. Surely in the earlier stages of history this was the plainest method for God to take in order to reveal His existence. Perhaps too when God sought to give a new revelation of Himself, He introduced it with miraculous signs.

SHOWING MERCY.

In the New Testament, with the exception of one or two, which were done to teach those around, all the miracles are done for the purpose of showing mercy.

So that we see that miracles are not isolated thaumaturgic experiments, but have laws behind them just as much as ordinary everyday happenings.

The B. B. C. Magazine commenting on Sir A. Ewing's Presidential Address to the British Association has this luminous sentence, "The Scientist no longer feels confident that he can unaided solve humanity's problems by mechanical and material means."

So do not let Science in its realm of wonderful achievement cause you to lose faith in the Bible. The one is examining God's Book of Nature and the other God's Book of Special revelation. They will some day be found to be in harmony.

(This is the second of a series of articles written specially for the "Telegraph" by a Bachelor of Theology. Next week: "The Bible and Higher Criticism.")

GERMAN POLITICS

TROUBLE AHEAD FOR NEW CABINET

Berlin, Dec. 2. President Hindenburg has invited von Schleicher to form a government which he has accepted. It is understood that the new Cabinet will comprise von Neurath as Foreign Minister and Count Schwerin-Krosigk as Finance Minister. The remaining posts will be occupied by new men.

It is uncertain whether von Schleicher will retain the Ministry for Defence. It is understood that he proposes to abandon temporarily any attempt to revise the constitution, while adopting a policy of compromise with the parties, hoping to avoid open warfare against the Reichstag.

The Government is likely to have considerable support when it faces the Reichstag next week, but without a majority, as the Nazis and Communists are both hostile. The socialist attitude depends on the acceptability of the Government's programme. Should the Reichstag adopt a vote of no confidence, it is probable that Hindenburg will authorize the Government to continue in office, like the von Papen cabinet.—Reuter.

Several donations have been received by the Society, including $1,000 from Mr. Wei Siu-pek, the well known local Chinese philanthropist and pharmacy owner.

His Excellency the Governor has appointed the following officers to be his Honorary Aides-de-Camp: Lieutenant J. G. Richardson, the South Wales Borderers; Lieutenant J. A. L. Schreiber, Royal Artillery; Lieutenant J. G. M. Fast play — a goal snatched at the psychological moment changing fortunes in the game — keep both players and onlookers in the greatest state of tension. Only at the end of the game, however, is this tension felt. Irregular circulation of the blood causes headache, and one becomes irritable and nervous. In these circumstances

INTERPORTERS FETE MR. HECTOR McTAVISH

FAREWELL DINNER AND PRESENTATION

PUBLIC TRIBUTE TO VICTORIOUS FOOTBALLERS

CONVIVIAL GATHERING AT THE PENINSULA HOTEL

(By "VERITAS".)

MEMBERS of the victorious Hongkong football team joined last night in feting Mr. Hector McTavish, former Secretary of the Hongkong F.C., and late chairman of the selection committee, when, on the eve of his departure for Home, he was the guest of honour at a dinner of the Hongkong Football Association, held in the Peninsula Hotel.

In the course of the evening, Major C. M. Manners, who presided, handed to Mr. McTavish a silver cigarette case from the council of the Association "in appreciation", and with it the sincere wishes of them all for a bon voyage and a happy and successful future.

The event was characterised by its atmosphere of conviviality, although happy reflection of the Interport team's brilliant success in Shanghai, was tinged with regret at the loss of such a sportsman as Hector McTavish.

PROUD OF THE TEAM.

The speeches last night, although numerous, were delightfully short and added to the success of the function. Major Manners in a neat speech, expressed the appreciation of the Football Association and himself of the great work done by Mr. McTavish during the 16 years he had been in the Colony, and called upon the company to accord the toast musical honours.

In response Mr. McTavish reiterated his sentiments regarding the outcome of the Interport and said he felt very proud indeed of the team. They had played the game both on and off the field and had come through in splendid fashion. For himself he deeply appreciated the gesture of his fellow football sportsmen in their gift, and although he did not require a cigarette case by which to remind him of Hongkong and the Football Association, it was something which he would value very highly. He thanked all his colleagues of the selection committee for the harmonious manner in which they had all worked in the face of severe criticism, and he congratulated Mr. Hollands and Mr. Mok on the way they had managed the Interport team.

"THE INTERPORTERS"

Major Manners then gave the toast of the Interporters, coupling with it the names of Mr. Rodger the captain, Mr. Pardoe vice-captain, and Mr. W. E. Hollands.

The toast was enthusiastically received, and in response Mr. Rodger said the cup was as good as won before they left on the McKinley. They went up fully determined to bring it back, and they did so thanks to the wonderful co-operation of the whole team and Mr. Hollands. The Interport skipper paid a special tribute to the military members of the team and said that they were four of the finest gentlemen and sportsmen who had ever played with a Hongkong Interport team.

Mr. Pardoe suitably responded and thanked the civilian members of the team for the way they had treated the military contingent. They had had a wonderful time in Shanghai, and it was no surprise to them to bring the cup back.

"I told Stan Gash on the Customs Jetty we would do it," added Pardoe, "and he laughed and took it as a joke. But we did win as we intended."

OTHER TRIBUTES.

Mr. W. E. Hollands told an appreciative audience of the transportation incident, when the team were left stranded in the Palace Hotel with no means of getting to the Canidrome, but eventually arrived there in a furniture van, and also spoke highly of the excellent conduct of the team. He had been to Shanghai with four teams but this was the first one which had given him "no worry whatever."

Major Manners asked Captain Elliot-Heywood to convey to the commanding officers the appreciation of the Football Association in allowing their men to go to Shanghai and also asked him to convey to them what had been said about the military players that evening.

Captain Elliot-Heywood in acknowledgement said it was gratify to know the military players had done what was expected of them. They looked to them to do their best, but when they did they liked to commend them, and it would give him much pleasure to convey the sentiments of the gathering that night to the Commanding Officers.

Mr. Mok Hing also paid a tribute to Mr. McTavish and the Interporters, and on behalf of the newspapers and the general public, "Veritas" added his tribute to the team which, although criticised and pulled to pieces before leaving, had justified the selection committee and themselves.

Mr. G. T. May as the oldest member of the Football Association paid his respects to Mr. McTavish and recalled his early associations with him.

K. C. C. PRESENTATION.

Earlier in the evening Mr. McTavish was the recipient of another farewell gift, when members of the K.C.C. gathered in the Club house to bid him farewell. The presentation which took the form of a clock, inscribed "from his pals," was handed to Mr. McTavish by Mr. Ezra Abraham, vice-President of the Club, who spoke of Mr. McTavish's happy associations with the Club and of his successes on the bowls greens. He also referred to the ability of Mrs. McTavish on the tennis court and reminded the company that she had this year won the Club championship. They wished them both happiness in the Home country, with the hope that they would one day return.

Mr. McTavish in reply said he had come to regard the K.C.C. as his home in Hongkong, for it was there that he had met and made more friends than anywhere else, and it was very hard indeed to say goodbye. He would always remember the Kowloon Cricket Club and its wonderful associations.

SHANGHAI & THE INTERPORT

WHAT THE CRITICS THINK

PAT ON THE BACK FOR HONGKONG

The Shanghai Times, commenting on the football Interport between Hongkong and Shanghai, make the following observations:

The Interport soccer match between Hongkong and Shanghai is now a thing of the past and we can only say that the better team won, at the same time patting the visitors on the back for their excellent display. Hongkong justified their selection, but can this be said of the Shanghai team? It is useless to cry over spilt milk, but still it was obvious that the remarks made in these columns as to the method of choosing players who had not had a trial, was correct.

Hongkong's forwards were delightful in their combining movements as compared to the scrappy misundstanding that the Shanghai men had, and the manner in which the whole Colony attacking line swept down the field was a treat to watch. Howe, who is a past Shanghai player, swung the ball out to his wings in a very successful manner while Wong and Suen proved the ideal inside forwards.

FORWARD LINE.

Compare the scrappy work of the local forwards, with K. G. Chen trying to instil a certain amount of dash into the attack and failing, while Bolton seemed at a loss as to what to do when the ball came to him. "Darky" Chen never came into the picture and Angus Turner, playing with the handicap of being all over the field, was never able to do justice to himself. It remains that the defence did do a lot of work, but they could not hold out any longer and succumbed.

It now remains for the local selectors to profit by the experience gained in this match and choose a team earlier for the next Interport at Chinese New Year, so that they can get a few practice matches together prior to meeting the Colony team when they go down there in the early part of January.

WHO SCORED?

There was an interesting point that cropped up which led to much argument. It was contended by many that the goal scored shortly after the resumption, was not put in by Wong as we reported. Furthermore it was stated that Stokes accidentally put the ball into his own goal, but from further investigation into the matter it was heard that Hurry was the guilty one. It seems strange that there should be such a variance of views, but nevertheless, of the large concourse that gathered, it would not be surprising if a good percentage of the spectators still do not feel sure in their minds as to who did the deed.

CLEAN TUSSELE.

There were several incidents during the match which led to rough play, but on the whole the game was fairly clean. The referee seemed up to his work, but we wonder why one of the senior referees, who has taken care of the bigger league matches during the season, was not appointed. The official in question has shown that he has a very sound knowledge of the game and his handling of the several important games showed him as impartial and very quick on the job.

The visitors may now look back on the contest with jubilation and it is our only hope that we may be able to reverse things when we visit them this Spring, and our team goes down to do battle on their ground.

BRILLIANT TEST RECOVERY.

AUSTRALIA PICKS UP AFTER BAD START.

CENTURY BY McCABE STOPS THE ROT.

LARWOOD IN FORM.

Sydney, Dec. 2.
After a disastrous opening in the first test, Australia recovered to 290 for six at the close of play. McCabe and Richardson were chiefly responsible for stopping the rot. McCabe, with 127, was still battling at stumps were drawn.

The attendance increased to 45,000 after lunch when Hammond and Larwood took up the attack for England. The latter had a devastating spell. Off his second ball, which swerved in, Ponsford was bowled without adding to his score. The second wicket fell at 65. Ponsford opened confidently and looked set when he lost his wicket. He took 103 minutes to score his 32.
Fingleton and Kippax took the total to 82 when the former was caught at short-leg by Allen off the last ball of Larwood's third over. Allen split his finger but returned to the field after medical attention. Fingleton's contribution was 20. He played a solid innings and was at the wicket for 72 minutes, scoring three fours.
Kippax was not a shadow of the old artist and was never comfortable, finally being given out leg before to Larwood for eight, the fourth wicket falling for 87. Stanley McCabe was joined by Victor Richardson and the pair made a stand which was unbroken when the tea interval arrived.

Larwood's Length.

Larwood was bowling like greased lightning and in taking three wickets before lunch had sent down seven overs, of which three were maidens and had conceded but 16 runs. McCabe sent up the century after the innings had been in progress for 144 minutes. He then scored two fours in succession off Voca. He gave the brightest display of the day. MAMAK POINTS FOR MEDWAY

GOOD DISPLAY BY H.M.S. PARTHIAN

In the only Mamak Tournament game played yesterday H.M.S. Parthian did well to hold a strong Medway team to the odd goal in three. The teams crossed over with the Medway holding a lead of 1-0, scored by Purris. Soon after resumption, Hawgood found the net to increase the lead. Towards the end the Parthian pressed strongly and their only goal was scored by Lieut. Smith.

FRIENDLY.

A scrappy game of hockey was witnessed on the Navy ground, King's Park, yesterday, between the Hongkong Hockey Club "A" team and H. M. S. Herald, the former winning by three goals to nil.

One goal was scored in the first half, when MacIntyre found the net, and Potter scored the other two. In the second half, Potter was conspicuous in his position as inside left, and was a constant source of worry to the naval defence. The Herald centre half did a lot of spoiling work, but the naval forward line lacked finish.

Suffolk Defeat Keppel.
H. M. S. Suffolk defeated H. M. S. Keppel in a friendly game at King's Park by two goals to one. The game was well contested, and both sides had an equal share of the changes.

LAND FOR THE UNEMPLOYED

GOVERNMENT'S NEW SCHEME

An important land settlement scheme is being considered by the Government as a means of relieving unemployment during the winter.

The scheme as at present visualised would provide for the placing of as many as 100,000 men in possession of small holdings, of some three or four acres' extent in the near future. These men and their families, it is contemplated, would be in a position to take the fullest advantage of the benefits of the Government's agricultural policy when they mature some twelve months hence.

The Prime Minister is understood to support the project and to have the sympathy of a number of Conservative Ministers. There is, however, an element of opposition within the Cabinet, which points to Mr. Lloyd George's Land Settlement Act of 1919, which cost the taxpayer some £3,000,000.

FARM AGAINST CAR

A FRIENDLY WAGER WITH MR. HENRY FORD

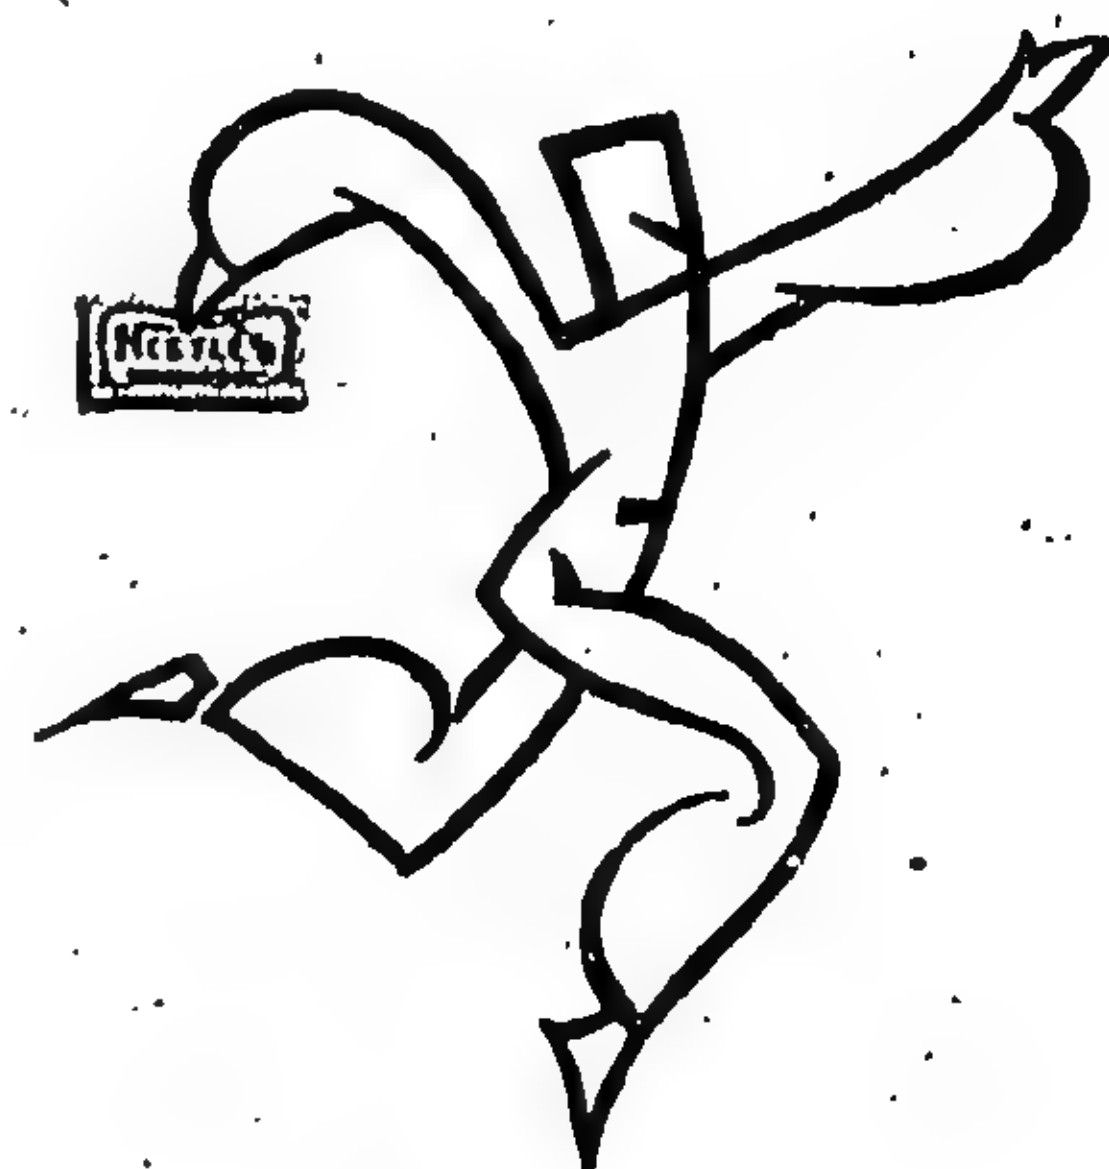

Two local business men offered Henry Ford a "friendly wager" of a 201-acre farm against one of his motor-cars that Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt would be elected President of the United States.

The men a general manager of a newspaper and a druggist, are joint owners of the farm. In their offer sent to Mr. Ford they stated:

"In 1919, under the last Democratic Administration, this 201-acre tract of land was valued at $2,000. There is to-day approximately 250,000 feet of pine timber and 50,000 feet of hard wood timber on the place. The tenant house is in fair condition.

"In the event of President Hoover's re-election, we feel that we will lose the place anyway and would much prefer you owning it than it being sold for debts."

tion that he hoped to be in a position in a week to declare the Government's plans for providing work for the unemployed.

YOUNG WIFE'S PLEA FOR DIVORCE

JUDGE AND "CONDUCT WHICH CANNOT BE ENCOURAGED"

A young wife's conduct was the subject of comment by the President, Lord Merrivale, in the Divorce Court.

The wife, Mrs. Florence Ethel Joyce, who gave an address at St. Anne's-gardens, Queen's-crescent, Camden Town, petitioned for a decree nisi on the ground of the adultery of her husband, Mr. Alfred Charles Joyce, who did not defend the suit. Mrs. Joyce also asked the Court to exercise discretion in her favour because she had lived with a young man named Jessop after her husband had left her.

Lord Merrivale stated that this was the case of two young people who were married but who did not get on together. There were no children. They lived apart after July, 1930, and eventually the wife presented her petition. However, she had met another man, and had lived with him ever since.

"It is now in this Court, in a civilised country," added Lord Merrivale, "that the woman complains of adultery by her husband. She comes here pleading for divorce and yet admits that, for the last six months, she has been living in adultery with a young man who is willing to marry her should she be released from her present husband. That is a course of conduct which cannot be encouraged by the Court. So what is to be done about it?"

"There is no suggestion that this wife has ceased to live in adultery, and has conducted herself like a decent citizen, having some regard to her marriage ties. In the circumstances the case will be referred back in the list to see whether these people alter their ways. If they do not, then it will be dismissed."

CINEMA SCREENINGS

NOTES SUPPLIED BY THE THEATRES

Many of the most famous sport champions in America have roles in "Huddle," Ramon Novarro's new starring feature, which will open to-morrow at the Queen's Theatre. Football and campus sequences will show such notables as Ernie Pinckert, All-American player from U.S.C. and one of the most outstanding gridiron stars of all time; Marger Aspit, former guard from U.S.C.; Jess Hibbs, All-American end in 1928 from Florida and All-American basketball player; Gene Clark, former end from U.S.C.; Don Hill, famous Stanford player in 1928, and Manfred Vezio, formerly a brilliant end for Notre Dame, who also acted as technical adviser for the production. Representatives of other sports who appear in the picture include Buster Crabbe, world's champion swimmer, holder of titles in the half mile, one mile and 300 yard medley, and John "Red" Burger, welterweight champion boxer in the 1924 Olympic Games in Paris. Many other men who have been members of famous teams will work as "atmosphere" in the production. Also appearing with Novarro in the strong supporting cast are Madge Evans, Una Merkel, Edith Gray, John Arledge, Frank Albertson, Kane Richmond, Martha Sleeper, Henry Armetta, Ferike Brons, Rockcliffe Fellow and Joe Sauer. Sam Wood, who is well known for such college pictures as "One Minute to Play" and "So This is College," directed the production.

"Movie Crazy" Harold Lloyd's new comedy, with Constance Cummings, opens its local engagement to-day at the King's Theatre. Just before the end of the week it is probable that about everybody in town will be in the same state as the boy in the film—literally and unabashedly movie crazy. For the comedian has made a film comparable in hilarity only to "Grandpa's Boy" and "The Freshman," perhaps the top-notchers of his efforts in the silent days. To the best that was in those pictures add new gags, advanced film technique, a finer performance by the star, and a supporting cast, headed by Constance Cummings, which is far superior to any with which Lloyd has surrounded himself in the past, and you will have some idea of the calibre of this latest laugh riot. In addition to its hysterically funny gags, "Movie Crazy" tells a human story of a movie-struck boy who tries his luck in Hollywood and makes good. Moreover, it takes the audience back stage in the movie studios and gives a good many glimpses of the way pictures are made. Miss Cummings is easily the best leading woman Lloyd has had in a long time. She adds much to the excellence of the picture, as do Hale, Kenneth Thomson and the other members of the supporting cast. Everybody has been looking for a tonic for the depression. Harold Lloyd has provided it in "Movie Crazy."

"Mischief" Remarkable strides forward were made by British pictures during 1931. Just at the end of the year "Mischief," a British and Dominion production, set the seal upon all the farcical-comedies of the year. The story is one of the familiar Ben Travers brand. He will be principally remembered for "Rookery Nook" and "Puncher." The picture, which will show soon at the King's Theatre, is a typical Ralph Lynn subject, and affords that great comedian abundant opportunity to display his genius. Keen Judges who have seen "Mischief" regard it as being the funniest British comedy yet made. It is a riot of laughter from the opening to the final fade-out. This laughter, too, is of a most comprehensive type in that it covers everything from the inward grin to the hearty guffaw. Ralph Lynn gives a brilliant comedy performance, and is admirably supported by Winifred Shotter, Jeanne Stuart and James Carew.

"What Price Hollywood" That Hollywood is rapidly displacing Paris as the fashion centre of the world is evidenced by the daring new gown creation Constance Bennett wears in "What Price Holly-

THE A.D.C. PLAY.

"PAYMENT DEFERRED" AT
THE STAR THEATRE

To-day will mark the opening night of Jeffery Dell's famous play "Payment Deferred," by the Hongkong A.D.C., at the Star Theatre, Kowloon. Circumstances attendant upon the closing of the Theatre Royal are mainly responsible for the change of venue, but local amateurs are not altogether strangers to the comfortable little playhouse across the water. A few years ago they were given a most hearty reception by residents of the mainland, and there is no doubt the present enterprise will be similarly received.

Last evening, the talented producer, Mrs. E. Grossman, put the cast through their final paces and generally gave the finishing touches to the work which promises to do her and all concerned the greatest credit.

Playgoers who enjoyed "The Middle Watch," "Dear Brutus," etc. will be glad to renew their acquaintance with such favourites as Margaret Birt, Oscar Eager, Veronica Butterfield, S. M. West, Eric Brooks, R. H. Charles and J. Reade, whilst talent fresh to the Hongkong stage will be found in Hilda Arnold, J. McKinley and Sydney Green, who come with good records of dramatic achievement in other climes.

The play will start promptly at 8.15 to-night, and on the nights of the 6th, 8th, 9th, and 10th, and those who have not already done so are advised to make an early application to the Anderson Music Co. for seats.

CHARITY BALL.

IN AID OF CHILDREN'S SOCIETY

The spacious dining room at the Hotel Cecil last night was transformed by a mass of coloured lights and tastefully arranged decorations into a gay setting for the annual Charity Ball in aid of the Hongkong Society for the Protection of Children. About 400 guests, including officials of the Society, and many leading members of the foreign and Chinese communities were present, and a most successful function was held.

The function was held under the distinguished patronage of H.E. Sir William Peel. In the course of a speech ushering in the evening's festivity, Sir Shou-son Chow, President of the Society, welcomed those present. He remarked that that was not the time to dilate on the objects of the Society which were well understood by them all. He concluded by thanking the supporters of the Society, and particularly the management of the Hotel Cecil for the use of the dining room for the Ball and for supplying refreshments free.

(Applause.)

Dancing was continued to 2 a.m. and refreshments were served.

wood," the latest RKO-Pathe production which is being shown for the last time to-day at the Central Theatre. The gown is a complete departure from the customary evening dress. The short bodice and skirt, of white and silver lame cloth, are completely divorced, with a band of very thin flesh-coloured stuff cloth at the waist. This gown at once brings to mind the early Egyptian woman's costume of the abbreviated bodice and separate skirt which left the waist bare. It also hinges of the South Sea Island where the girls managed to get along for years with only a tapa cloth and lei. "What Price Hollywood" is an absorbing insight into the film Capital. Others in the cast besides Constance Bennett, are Nell Hamilton, Lowell Sherman and Gregory Ratoff.

THE BEST REMEDY FOR DYSPEPSIA

—the one preparation in which eminent doctors place their confidence; which hospitals use, and which nurses and general public alike unite in recommending, is "Bismarck" Magnesia. This is because the "Bismarck" gets prompt and sure benefit, since this remedy removes the harmful acid and fermentation which cause the trouble. It doesn't matter whether your disorder is indigestion, dyspepsia, gastritis, flatulence, or some other weakness of the stomach, "Bismarck" Magnesia will give you instant relief from the pain and a speedy return to normal powers of digestion. It is sold by chemists everywhere in both powder and tablet forms, and when buying look for the trade-mark "Bismarck" on the blue carton, proof that you have got "Bismarck" Magnesia, the best remedy known for dyspepsia.

BRITISH VESSEL

CONDEMNED.

BIG CLAIMS MADE BY THE DOLLAR LINE

The Dollar Steamship Line, under a mortgage dated September 22, 1928, claimed against the U.S. Capitol, a British-owned vessel, the following amounts due to them for principal and interest and expenses, in a case at the Supreme Court yesterday afternoon before the Chief Justice (Sir Joseph Kemp) sitting in Admiralty Jurisdiction:

Principal, Canadian £120,938.90; interest to August 31st, 1932, Canadian £55,938.30; expenses in Kobe, U.S. $4,968.49; expenses in Hongkong, U.S. $5,780.31; expenses in Hongkong, Canadian £32,100.50; and expenses in Hongkong, H.K. $1,874.13.

The plaintiffs also claimed interest in view of expenses during the time thereof to payment of judgment.

Mr. Duncan McNeill, instructed by Messrs. Wilkinson and Grist, appeared for the plaintiffs, and after reading a number of affidavits made by agents of the plaintiff firm in Hongkong and Kobe, in which they set out particulars of claim, asked that an order be made for the sale of the ship and for payment out of the proceeds of the amount due to plaintiffs on the mortgage, principal and interest, together with the amount of their proper expenses in the maintenance and working of the ship since they had taken possession in preserving their security.

Order Made.

His Lordship made an order that the ship be condemned in amounts found by the Registrar to be due (1) in respect of the mortgage debt and interest, and (2) for disbursements or estimated disbursements and costs; that the rate of exchange for converting Yen into United States $5 in respect of the Kobe account depend on the reasonableness of the date of drawing; the question of the rate of conversion so found due be adjourned to Chambers; an order for appraisal and sale, the sale to be under the direction of the Registrar; plaintiffs to have liberty to bid at the sale provided this liberty is notified publicly at the auction; and liberty to apply on any order made above.

LECTURE ABANDONED.

TROTSKY WILL NOT GO TO SWEDEN TO TALK

London, Dec. 2.
M. Trotsky has decided not to take advantage of the permission to go to Sweden to deliver a lecture at the Lund University, in view of the possible unfavourable reception he might meet with as an outcome of the existing protest against his visit.—Our Own Correspondent.

supported, the proper response is three no trump. If the original bidder then goes to four clubs, partner is now required to support one of the three suits or to bid four no trump.

Of course, the naming of three suits is very rare, but the example is given to show that the bidding must continue until the final declaration is game-going contract.

An original suit bid of two is made on a hand containing five or six high card tricks, but even this number of quick tricks is not sufficient if more than three of the smaller cards are losers.

There are indeed few hands in a year's time that meet the strong requirements of this bid, and when in doubt as to whether the hand meets these requirements, it is my advice either to open the hand with two no trump, if it will meet those requirements; or one no trump, which shows a very strong hand; or one of a suit, as partner will keep the bidding open with as little as a trick in one hand with at least a bid of one no trump.

An original game demand suit bid of two requires partner to make a bid even though his hand is trickless and places an obligation on both him and the original bidder to keep the bidding open until the final contract is at least a game-going declaration. There are two types of responses—one is known as a positive response and one as a negative response. The negative response is two no trump and is made with a trickless hand.

The positive response is either a suit bid or a bid of three no trump. To make this positive response, partner is required to hold either an ace or one and one-half high card tricks.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By W. E. McKenney

Editor's Note: This is the 11th of the series of articles by Mr. E. McKenney explaining the one over one system of bidding in contract bridge.

There are two original forcing suit bids employed in the one over one system. They are:

1. The original forcing suit bid of two, which will be explained to-day.

2. The original forcing suit bid of three, which will be explained in to-morrow's article.

The principal difference in the two bids is that the original bidder, when making a forcing suit bid of two, is prepared to allow his partner to become the declarer—in other words, his hand can safely become the dummy at a no trump contract and even, possibly, at a suit that may be named by partner.

However, when making an original forcing suit bid of three, the original bidder makes the statement that he desires to be the declarer on this hand and that he has no desire to play the hand at a no trump contract. This is an important point to bear in mind when employing these two bids.

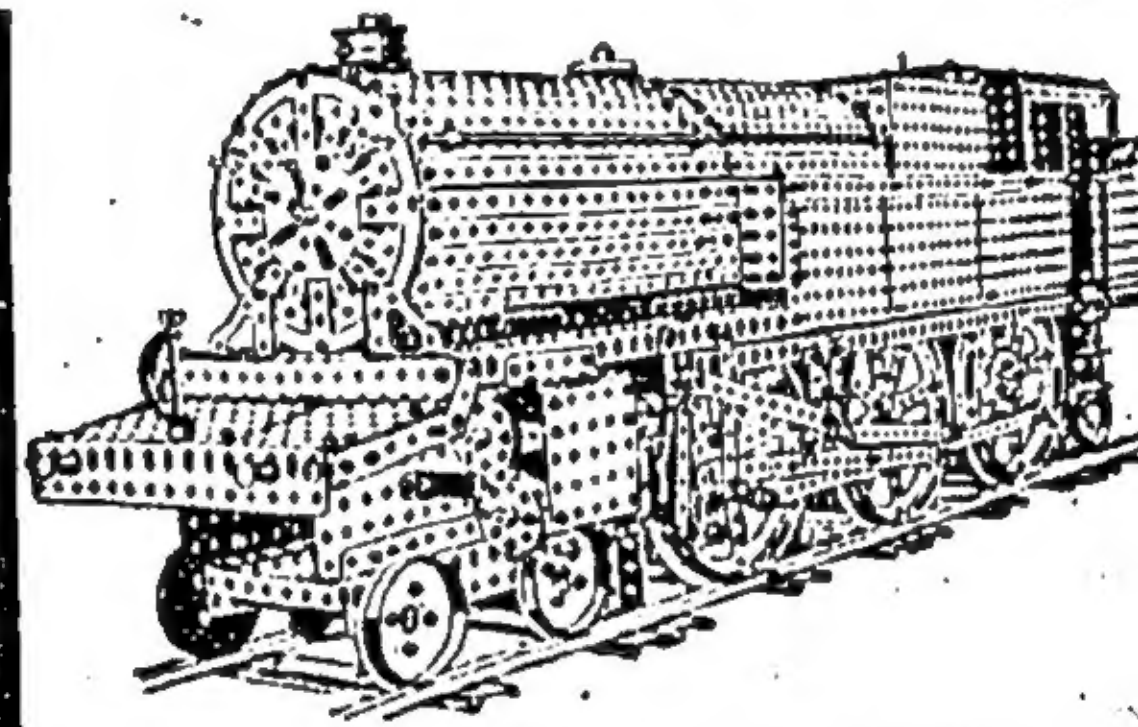

The most abused bid at contract bridge to-day is the forcing two bid. The majority of experts who to-day use and advocate the forcing two bid in connexion with the one over one system find only rare opportunities to employ this forcing original bid.

An original suit bid of two shows a power-house hand with no more than three losing cards, and a hand that can go down and become the dummy.

It not only demands that partner keep the bidding open, but places an obligation upon both partners to keep the bidding open until the final declaration is a game-going contract, even though partner's hand is trickless.

An exaggerated example is as follows: The original bid is two hearts. Holding less than a trick, the proper response is two no trump. The original bidder then bids three diamonds.

The bidding must be kept open, therefore if neither suit can be

BOYS, MAKE SURE YOU GET
THIS CHRISTMAS.

Make this Christmas one to remember. Start Meccano model-building, the most thrilling hobby in the world for boys! Meccano models are real engineering models in miniature, built with real engineering parts. Even the smaller Outfits will build hundreds of models. For instance, the No. 1 Outfit, is accompanied by a Manual of instructions that shows how to build 573 different models—realistic working models of cranes of all kinds, aeroplanes, motor cars and vans, etc. Think of it—a new model every day for more than eighteen months! Even then the possibilities of the Outfit are far from exhausted, for you can invent scores of other models quite easily and build them up on correct engineering principles.

You must have Meccano this Christmas! Meccano Limited, Liverpool, England.

AID FOR CANTON MERCHANTS

ADVANCES BY GOVT. BANK

Canton, Dec. 2. To relieve financial stringency during this time of the year, the Kwangtung Provincial Bank has set aside $1,000,000 as loans to merchants upon proper guarantee from five firms of good standing, each loan being limited to $100,000.

This scheme has been approved by the Provincial Government, though no date has been determined as to when application for loans can be made. The Central Press learned to-day that the loans will be available in a very short time, as the Provincial Bank is aware of the fact that merchants want to borrow money to settle all outstanding accounts before the New Year.

Besides the guarantee of five firms of good standing, no other security or mortgage will be required. The interest will be fixed at a very low rate.—Central Press.

VISCOUNT SNOWDEN BITTER ON OTTAWA

London, Dec. 2. "I wish that the Ottawa delegates would say in public what they say privately, that Ottawa was a tragic failure," declared Viscount Snowden at a luncheon given by the Free Trade Committee to the resigned Ministers.

He added that the Tories have lied on this question with a persistence which had almost raised mendacity to the rank of virtue.—Our Own Correspondent.

(Special to "Telegraph")

Shanghai, Dec. 3.

Preliminary attempts to straighten out the Shanghai radio tangle were taken to-day when a meeting of the interested parties was arranged for Tuesday.

There are forty distinct wireless stations in Shanghai broadcasting daily leading to a state of "chaos in the air." At the present time, anyone can erect a transmitting station in the International Settlement and it is there that the majority are to be found.

Not only do these stations operate at the same time, but some of them use the same wavelength and it is alleged that rivals have deliberately jammed one another.

REPRESENTATIVE GATHERING.

Tuesday's meeting, it is hoped, will comprise three members of the Chinese Broadcasting Association, representing the listeners, three members of the Radio Dealers' Association, representing the dealers, one representative of the French Broadcasting Station and an unofficial representative from each of the three Municipalities, the International Settlement, French Concession and Greater Shanghai.

Discussion will take place with a view to making concrete suggestions to the Municipalities and the Chinese Government for the control of radio.—Reuter.

At the next meeting of the Rotary Club, Rotarians G.A.C. Hordley will speak on "Birds, Beasts and Flowers."

SUGAR PARLEY SUCCEEDS

NO FLOODING OF MARKET

The Hague, Dec. 2. The International Sugar Council has resulted in complete success.

It is understood that the Conference agreed that the Cuban export quota for 1934 and 1935 should be increased by 70,000 tons and be offset by a reduction in the German quota. If the latter exceeds anticipations, then the quotas of other European participants will be reduced proportionately.

With regard to surplus stocks, it was agreed that it would be had policy to flood the markets, and that liquidation should proceed in an orderly manner.

The Conference passed resolution to the effect that it would do its utmost, insofar as special circumstances permit, to restrict planting and harvesting.

The Council will hold its next meeting in Paris on March 13th.—Reuter.

STEAMER FIRED ON.

SEVERAL REPORTED KILLED ON YANGTSE

Hankow, Dec. 2. The Yangtze Rapids steamer Iping, which arrived at Hankow yesterday, reported she had been heavily fired on 35 miles below Ichang. Several of the crew are reported to have been killed and wounded.—Reuter.

Arrested on the President Taft on her arrival yesterday, Joe Cheuk Wu, who was a passenger from America, was brought before Mr. Schofield at the Central Police Court this morning as a fugitive offender, wanted in British Columbia on a charge of murder. Mr. F.K. d'Almeida appeared for the fugitive, who was formally remanded for one week.
